

RECAP

- “In the process of discovering God’s plan for our lives in terms of profession or trade or calling, very often we will make that discovery in stages and will live out God’s plan in chapters of life that do not always appear to create a cohesive narrative. As our faith grows, we come to understand a lifetime dedicated to fulfilling God’s call can take on a variety of packages.”

DISCUSSION STARTERS

- Share with others how the Lord transitioned you from one chapter to the next in your professional life.
- Discuss the challenge of trusting God’s unfolding will even when you are ‘sure this cannot be His plan in motion’.
- The author shared an experience of others seemingly serving as obstacles to God’s will. How should a committed Christian respond to this dilemma?
- Read Romans 8:28. Easier said than done?
- The decision of others in authority over you may drastically change your plans. Are you willing to trust the Lord to work through others you trust to do His will?
